Dear Ms. Banderas,

Congratulations on your engagement and upcoming wedding! As the national trade association representing more than 12,000 florists, wholesalers and flower growers, the Society of American Florists (SAF) monitors media references to flowers and florists. Floral business owners have told us that on the May 31 broadcast of "America's News HQ," you asked Gregg Jarrett if he knew of any good florists.

We thought you should know that we have tips to help brides plan their big day. Posted on www.aboutflowers.com — specifically on the wedding section at www.aboutflowers.com/flower-holidays-occassions-a-parties/weddings.html — you'll see tips on how to choose your wedding florist, FAQs, suggested items that should be included in your wedding florist agreement, bouquet trends, creative wedding ceremony and reception flowers, and a directory of our member florists.

If you ever need information about flowers or florists, please contact me or visit www.aboutflowers.com.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Jenny Scala
